VERSIONS LOG

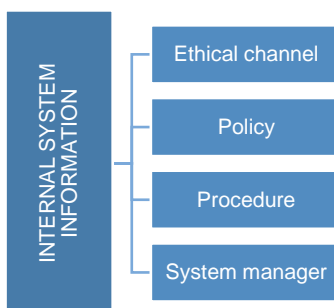

La Finca Group (hereinafter “the Company” or “LaFinca” indistinctly) has made, to date, the following updates to its internal information system policy (hereinafter, “the System”):

Denomination	Approval	Date
Internal Information System Policy	Board of Directors	09/06/2023

INTRODUCTION

La Finca Group, aware of the importance for the Entity of having an “internal information system”, it has designed one in accordance with the provisions of Law 2/2023, of February 20, regulating the protection of persons who report regulatory violations and the fight against corruption (hereinafter “the Law” or “Law 2/2023”), which will be used as the preferred means of reporting violations, ensuring that all the necessary requirements are met so that the violation can be dealt with effectively.

The internal system information encompasses both the channel, understood as a tool through which information is received, as well as the person responsible for the system, the procedure and the policy.

En In this regard, it implements a compliance mailbox (hereinafter “internal channel” or “compliance mailbox”) managed by a third party, with the main objective of protecting individuals who, within the framework of an employment or professional relationship, detect actions or omissions that may constitute serious or very serious criminal or administrative offenses, in accordance with the provisions of the material scopes of this policy.

Consequently, this System enables Employees and third parties with employment or professional ties to the Entity, to report, in good faith and based on reasonable evidence, any facts that may constitute a legal or criminal risk to La Finca.

Furthermore, those who communicate through this internal system will be informed, in a clear and accessible manner, about the possibility of using external channels to report to the competent authorities (e.g., the Independent Authority for the Protection of Informants (I.A.I.) and where appropriate to the institutions, bodies, or agencies of the European Union.

The System meets a series of requirements that determine its functionality, including the following:

- a) Accessible use.
- b) Confidentiality guarantees.
- c) Correct monitoring, investigation, and whistleblower protection practices.

The implement system by LaFinca Group, also includes:

- a) A policy that sets out the general principles regarding internal information system and whistleblower protection, which must be duly publicized within the Entity.
- b) A procedure for managing incoming communications (Compliance mailbox), which establishes the necessary provisions to ensure that the internal information system and existing internal information channels comply with the requirements established by Law 2/2025.

GOVERNING PRINCIPLES

La Finca Group System must comply with the mens legis of the regulations governing the protection of whistleblower's: this eliminates the need to comply with following principles:

a) Transparency and accessibility

The system's policy, as well as, the essential principles of the compliance mailbox management procedure, will be made public through its website, where they must appear on the home page, in a separate and an identifiable section.

b) Confidentiality and anonymity

LaFinca Group, take the necessary measures regarding the identity of the informant, as well as any data they have access to regarding an irregular activity through the compliance mailbox.

The administrators of the internal channel, as well as its supervisory bodies undertake to maintain due confidentiality in all actions and in relation to all persons involved.

Likewise, they will take appropriate measures to prevent and neutralize any type of retaliation that third parties might attempt to cause as a result of reporting the incident.

c) Good faith

Anyone who makes a communication must do so in accordance with the unwavering principle of good faith, providing sufficient reasons and objective evidence demonstrating the existence of noncompliance. Therefore, the transmission of false, distorted, and illicitly obtained information must be avoided.

d) Objectivity and impartiality

Communications received by La Finca, through its internal channel, will be treated and managed under the same criteria, regardless of who makes them and who they concern, without establishing any difference or privileged based on the circumstances of their individuals and their position in the Entity's hierarchical and functional organization.

e) Choice of channel

The informant may choose the communication channel they consider most appropriate and may use external channels if they deem it appropriate, primarily due to the fact they wish to report.

f) Prohibition of retaliation

La Finca internal system information, expressly prohibits acts constituting retaliation, including threats of retaliation and attempted retaliation against individuals who submit a communication through the internal channel.

Retaliation is understood as any acts or omissions that are prohibited by the law or, directly or indirectly, involve unfavourable treatment that places the people who suffer them at a particular disadvantage with respect to others in the work or professional context, solely because of their status as informants.

g) Whistleblower protection

La Finca Group system protects all the whistleblowers against any type of retaliation that the Entity may carry out as a result of the report.

Among the main requirements for obtaining protection, we can highlight the following:

- Information about irregularities must have been obtained in the context of work – related activities.

- The whistle-blower reporting the irregularities must have reasonable grounds to believe that the information is accurate, even if conclusive evidence is lacking, reasonable suspicion is sufficient.

h) Presumption of innocence and the affected parties 'right to defence

The accused must be informed of the ongoing investigation process so that, when accused of such conduct is alleged, they can exercise their right to defence and present any arguments that may allow them to prove their innocence.

Finally, it should be noted that LaFinca system guarantees that individuals who report or disclose violations through the compliance mailbox will have access to various support measures (e.g. information, legal advice, etc.).

OBJECTIVE SCOPE OF APPLICATION

The policy regulate the functionality of the internal system of information, which any person who is under the subjective scope of the same and who considers that certain breaches are occurring, may formulate a communication so that the problem is known and adequately resolved, thus avoiding a delay in the same, with the consequent harm to the Entity and the parties involved in the communication.

The system, in addition to protecting those who report violations of European Union Law, will also protect those actions or omissions that may constitute serious or very serious criminal or administrative violations of our legal system.

La Finca Internal System Information, fulfil completely within the following aspects that appoint the law:

- Its designed, established and managed in a secure form, guarantee the confidentiality of the informant and any third party that appears in the communication.
